Artist Statement:

Art can simply be a pure exercise in pattern and color. By concentrating on assembling pleasing color palettes and striking patterns, one can produce something visually stimulating. The work employs unique mark making, effective mixing of textures and media, and explores the translucence of layering. These pieces have a harmonious patterned aesthetic that incorporates a wide swath of materials, surfaces, and techniques. The finished products draw in viewers and asks them to contemplate the whole work, as well as the individual elements.
